RIDING IN THE FOREST

A group of five riders on horses are positioned in a line across a rocky, uneven terrain. The riders are wearing helmets and casual riding attire. The horses are of various colors, including brown and white. The background features a line of green trees under a blue sky with scattered white clouds. In the foreground, the top of a brown horse's head and ears is visible, suggesting the photo was taken from the perspective of a rider on that horse.
